Ramblin' Round

With Jay Powell

HOUSEWIVES' LESSON SESSIONS at the OLYMPIC ICE ARENA, 23770 S. Western Ave., should help dispel those home-maker blues that seem to be an ailment common to all you gals.

As this epidemic seems to strike with widespread regularity, why not form a "take it out on the ice" club? Form a group, get together at the Olympic Ice Arena and glide your blues away in the refreshingly crisp atmosphere.

Free baby sitting for your convenience. Free coffee and donuts to pep you up.

Soon, no more blues or boredom. You can go back to the home-making routine refreshed and invigorated.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL SPECIALS are a specialty of this season. Every business seems to have something that children—or their parents—need at this time.

The TOWER DRIVE-IN, 17420 S. Western Ave., offers Food. Their Back-To-School Special is a Burger Basket and Pepsi for 75c.

A regular 1/4 lb. hamburger served in a basket with shoestring potatoes and a Pepsi-Cola.

Wonderful lunch for kiddies—and parents.

No discrimination against those without children, ej-ther. This is one back-to-school special that everyone can enjoy.

MONDAY NIGHT IS FAMILY NIGHT at the PARASOL, Pacific Coast Hwy. at Crenshaw.

From 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. every Monday (except holidays) families are invited to a Fried Spring Chicken Special.

One-half chicken with French fries, hot roll, honey and butter for $1 per plate.

Sounds tempting, and really is, too.

Nice opportunity to let the young fry have a fried chicken feast at a reasonable cost.

AUTUMN IS A GOOD TIME to follow one of the more popular indoor sports—DANCING.

You can learn—or brush up—at the GABLE HOUSE DANCE STUDIO. Teen and adult class lessons. Also private instruction. No high pressure or contracts. Call FR 5-3938 if you want to dance gracefully away from being a wallflower.

Leslie B. Spurgin, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Surgin of 1313 West 219th St., Torrance, arrived in Alameda, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Hancock after spending nearly seven months in the Western Pacific.

The carrier operated as a unit of the Seventh Fleet while in the Far East.

The Hancock participated in operations sponsored by the South East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) while overseas. In addition, she visited Hong Kong and Ports in Japan.

DR. LOU GOTTLIEB, leader of The Limelites, strolls through an airport with the "fourth" member of his famous trio, none other than Mr. B. Fiddle. Mr. Fiddle travels all over the country in a plane seat of his own with The Limelites, who are appearing Sept. 22 of the Hollywood Bowl along with Mexico's Esquivel and his band, and New York pianist Peter Nero.

SAMMY DAVIS, JR., who will headline the 4th annual "Stereo at the Bowl" show, Sept. 14 and 15 at Hollywood Bowl. Sharing stellar honors with the versatile song and dance man will be famed pianist George Shearing, Maestro Pete King and his orchestra, and Peter, Paul and Mary, fast-rising young folksingers.

Thanks Are Due Greek Theatre for Fine Productions

Spokesmen for our community should make known the appreciation of the people for the varied and notable parade of great productions and artists which the Greek Theatre Association of Los Angeles has brought for our pleasure this summer.

We doubt if any other city on the North American continent has been privileged to enjoy so stimulating a season.

The scope and quality of the series has provided everything from the hilarity of a Danny Kaye, through the irresistible charm of the fabulous Maurice Chevalier to the unprecedented privilege of premieres of such world renowned companies as Sir Tyrone Guthrie's Royal Gala Production of "H.M.S. Pinafore" flown here in the midst of its London triumph, and the 300-year old National Theatre of France, the illustrious Comedie Francaise.

We are fortunate indeed to be able, by the simple process of buying a ticket, to enjoy the greatest entertainment which today's world can furnish—and here at home in our own Greek Theatre, to boot.

The Greek Theatre Association and General Director James A. Doolittle have employed resourcefulness and vigilance in seeking out and providing the highest standards in the performing arts for our area—standards which have earned us international recognition.

We tender to this fine organization and its Director our congratulations and our gratitude. Thank you for this, and all succeeding Greek Theatre seasons.

Sammy Davis, Jr. Featured in 4th 'Stereo at Bowl'

Frosting is piled on frosting on the richest entertainment cake ever offered at the 4th annual "Stereo at the Bowl" show held Sunday at Hollywood Bowl.

Sammy Davis, Jr., of course, would pack any concert hall anywhere, without support, and he does. But Concerts, Inc., producers of the "Stereo" presentation wanted to make certain there'll be entertainment for all tastes by booking in George Shearing as special guest star, Maestro Pete King and his recording orchestra and a trio of sensation, fast-rising young folksingers, Peter, Paul and Mary.

Peter, Paul and Mary, incidentally, have astounded the folk tune aficionados by bringing polish and savoir-faire to a medium usually associated with turtle-neck sweaters. The two lads, Peter Yarrow and Paul Stookey, although bearded, dress like Park Avenue advertising men, while blonde Mary Travers is usually attired like a Greek goddess, which she is to her fans.

Instrumentation of the captivating Marty Harris Trio includes Pat Senatore on bass, Nick Martinis on drums and Harris at the piano.

Semi-Pops, Light Classical Concert Slated by Symphony

A concert of semi-popular and lighter classical music is currently being planned for Nov. 12 by the Civic Symphony of the South Bay and Torrance.

The civic symphony is becoming known as "the Symphony of the Artists" because the membership of the orchestra includes a number of such experienced soloists as Bernard Berkaik.

Among the players are persons who have conducted and conduct their own orchestras. Included are Sam Romm, Frank Redlich, and W. B. Loughridge and many who are "first chairmen" in the studios or famous orchestras such as the New York Metropolitan Opera and the Royal Philharmonic Symphony of London.

Series Slated For Housewives

"Less Work, More Fun in Homemaking" is the theme of a five-week series for housewives held Tuesdays from 1:30 to 3 p.m. at the American Institute of Family Relations, 5287 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles 27.

The course's motto is "Run your house; don't let your house run you." The series is designed for the young wife and mother who is snowed under with dishes, diapers and dirt. Information may be obtained by writing or telephoning the institute, HO 5-5131.

The informal lectures and discussions will deal with such problems as fatigue and how to prevent it, making a work schedule that is flexible yet efficient.

Limelites to Play At Hollywood Bowl

The Limelites, who play the Hollywood Bowl Sept. 22, although classified as a trio, are actually a quartet, according to Lou Gottlieb, leader of the group.

This will come as a surprise to The Limelites' fans, but the mysterious fourth member who has remained anonymous so long is none other than Gottlieb's expensive base fiddle. And the reason Mr. B. Fiddle has attained personality status is because Lou insists on buying an extra seat for the fiddle whenever the group travels.

Gottlieb, a professor of musicology from the University of California, has a zany sense of humor which has helped promote The Limelites to the big time, and he admits that Mr. B. Fiddle causes quite a stir when he takes him on a bus, train or on a plane.

"As I strap the fiddle into a seat, I always casually turn around to be sure the passenger behind doesn't mind. The reply usually is "No, fella, it's all right. It doesn't bother me a bit." But when I turn back I can hear him mumble, "Martha, there's some kind of nut up there—treating a fiddle like a human being."

The Limelites, fresh from new triumphs all over the country play the Sept. 22 Hollywood Bowl show along with young New York pianist Peter Nero and Mexico's talented composer-orchestra leader, Esquivel, and his band.
